PROPERTY IS ASSESSED ON LOWER BASIS

City's Valuations for 1928 Show Decrease of $223,168.50, as Compared With 1927 Figures

NET ASSESSMENT IS $40,015,120

Value of Land Decreased $512,694, But Improvements Show Increase of $699,171

A DECREASE of $223,168.50 is shown in the city's land improvement assessments for 1928, as compared with 1927, according to figures made public yesterday at the assessor's office.

The net taxable assessment of and improvements for 1928 is $40,015,120, as against $40,238,89, in 1927. This gives a net taxable decrease in the assessment of $223,168.50.

Assessors who have been at work on the past eight or nine months assessing city property have completed their totals. Their report shows that there is a decrease on real estate assessments of $512,694, in the other hand there is a gross increase on improvements of $699,171. This is accounted for by the large number of new buildings that have been erected during the past year.

In 1927 the gross land assessment was $31,922,964. Less $5,923,170 exemptions, the total was $25,999,794. The net taxable assessment of land, after the exemption of $5,923,170, was $20,076,624. The gross improvement assessments totalled $40,071,970. Less $11,94,980 exemptions, the total was $28,126,990, of which half was taxable.

The 1928 figures show gross land assessments at $31,410,270. Less $5,540 exemptions the taxable total is $25,869,930. Gross improvement assessments total $40,771,141. Less $11,710,780 exemptions, the taxable total is $29,059,361, half of which is taxable.

In reassessing the city the assessors adopted the principle for downward assessment of the amount of the number of last year's appeals as have been received this year, although quite a number of late appeals are being received.

These late appeals are out of court, however, and cannot be considered. Ratepayers are advised that it is now too late to send in their appeals as consideration of them is not permitted under the Municipal Act.

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 26.—The late Securities Commission today ruled against a petition of the Rev. N. Holmapple, head of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, to prevent the sale of Canadian brewery stock in the state on the ground that it gave moral support to the liquor industry.

B.C. TO SEND AMPLE QUOTA

Province Assured of Full Representation at Conservative National Convention in Winnipeg

FULL DELEGATION ALREADY CERTAIN

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26.—British Columbia is assured of a full representation at the National Conservative Convention, which opens in Winnipeg, October 10, it is announced by Mr. J. E. Carpenter, secretary of the British Columbia Conservative Association.

Of the fifty-six elected delegates, forty-six have already forwarded their credentials and signified their intention of going; while thirty-six alternates, more than enough to make up any deficiency in delegates, have done likewise. It is expected, however, that more than fifty original delegates will go, so that there will be only a half dozen alternates with the right to vote.

ALL WILL BE THERE In addition, the five Conservative Senators and twelve Conservative members of the House of Commons have all signified their intention of going to Winnipeg. Three of the five executive officers who are eligible will also be there, it is stated.

There still remain fourteen delegates at large to be named to the executive of the British Columbia Conservative Association, and these will be chosen from among outstanding supporters of the party who were not elected as delegates from any of the fourteen district associations, but who wish to attend. These will be named within the next week, it is expected.

British Columbia is thus assured of having 120 delegates and alternates at the convention.

BATTLE ROYAL IS PREDICTED

MISS AGNES MACPHAIL AND FORMER PREMIER DRURY TO STAGE FIGHT

Mr. Drury Not to Find "Same Courtesy and Consideration" as in Last Convention

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—The prediction of a battle royal at the U.F.O. convention in December was made by both Mr. E. C. Drury, former U.F.O. Premier of Ontario, and Miss A. Macphail, M.P., today. Discussing an editorial in the Montreal Gazette, which claims that the U.F.O. is dead, and that the lady U.F.O. member is the star witness at the inquest, Miss Macphail stated today that Mr. Drury would not find the same courtesy, sympathy and support of the U.F.O. convention this year.

OIL ELECTRIC IS GREAT CAR

CANADIAN RAILWAY INNOVATION MAKES REMARKABLE RUN TO BALTIMORE

Shows Heels to B. & O. Train—Steady Speed of About Sixty Miles an Hour

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 26.—"You are running a little too fast." This was the gentle hint contained in a wire from an American train dispatcher to Driver H. J. Palmer, who was in charge of the Canadian National Railway oil electric car on its trip from Toronto to Baltimore, where this newest of transportation innovations, developed by Canadian National engineers, is one of the feature exhibits at the "fair of the iron horse," marking the centenary of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

As a matter of fact, Palmer was not breaking any speed records and the message was not intended as a rebuke but merely as a suggestion that Palmer was carrying out instructions a few seconds better than had been anticipated. He had been warned to keep out of the way of a regular passenger train that had set out close behind him. The oil electric rolled along at a steady clip of fifty-five to fifty-seven miles per hour and left the steam train far in the rear.

Violent Deaths Numerous Among Children in U.S.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Violent deaths are so prevalent among children at this time that a boy between five and fourteen is more likely to die in an accident than because of disease, the safety committee of the National Safety Congress reported to the congress at its opening session today. The meeting will continue until September 30.

FRUIT TRAIN CARS ARE DEMOLISHED

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 26.—A freight train of sixteen coal cars crashed into an open siding on the Canadian National Railway at Vineland today, and tore into the rear of a fruit train special, completely demolishing several carloads of fruit and tearing the loading platform from its foundations. No one was injured.

The engineer of the running freight, A. J. McMillan, Sarnia, and the fireman, Jack Dunn, of Sarnia, escaped injury.

The brakeman of the fruit train made a gallant attempt to close the switch, but failed by thirty feet.

AUSTRALIA GROWING FASTER THAN CANADA

MELBOURNE, Sept. 26.—A statement issued by the Commonwealth statistician shows the population of Australia to be more than 6,000,000 as compared with 2,350,000 in 1881. Since 1921 the population has increased by 10.81 per cent compared with an increase of 8.15 per cent recorded by Canada in the same period.

British Aviator Goes 281 Miles to the Hour Winning Famous Cup

VENICE, Sept. 26.—Great Britain won a great victory in the battle here today for possession of the Schneider Cup. All existing seaplane speed records were shattered. Flight Lieut. S. N. Webster, piloting a supermarine Napier S-5 machine, won the race, and his teammate, Flight Lieut. O. E. Worsley, in another supermarine machine, was second. The third English entry and all three Italian entries were unable to cross the finish line of the 350 kilometre (217.463 miles) course.

Lieut. Webster covered the distance in the official time of 46 mins. 20.28 secs. He averaged 453.282 kilometres, or 281.488 miles an hour, compared with the record of 246.495 miles an hour, established by Major Mario de Bernardi, of the Italian Royal Air Force, who won the race last year.

OTHER STARS Lieut. Worsley also broke the previous record, covering the course in 7 mins. 46.75 secs. for an average of 439.472 kilometres or 272.912 miles an hour. Lieut. Webster's fastest lap was clocked at 288.76 miles an hour.

Another star speed performance was by the other British entry, Lieut. S. N. Kinkaid, in a Gloster speedster, who covered the distance in 7 mins. 46.75 secs. for an average of 439.472 kilometres or 272.912 miles an hour. Lieut. Webster's fastest lap was clocked at 288.76 miles an hour.

Whether the race would start was doubtful until nearly the last minute. The sky was heavily overcast and a slight drizzle fell all morning. This caused a noisy lamentation from the spectators who packed the beach. The officials, however, decided that it was possible to race. Lieutenant Kinkaid took off a few seconds after this decision was reached. The others started at five-minute intervals.

Before half of the first lap had been finished, Major de Bernardi and his teammate, Capt. Ferrarini, the Italian, had been forced down. Up to the fourth lap Kinkaid's average speed was 446.80 kilometres an hour, or 277.338 miles an hour. He was forced out during the sixth lap. Captain P. Guazzelli was well in the rear when almost at the end of the race he was obliged to give up, leaving the field clear to the English. All the forced landings were carried out safely and without incident.

U.S. VETERANS VISIT LONDON

American Legion Post Marches From Victoria Station to Trafalgar Square

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The American Legion's invasion of London began this afternoon when the Thomas B. Wansmaker Post of New York, descended at Victoria Station.

The delegation marched past Buckingham Palace and Wellington Barracks with its band playing and its color bearers carrying the Stars and Stripes, Union Jack, and the flag of the Legion.

Twelve girl standard bearers in uniforms with dainty white trimmings, captured the fancy of the English crowds and won repeated applause. The King's Guard turned out of the barracks to greet this unusual delegation of visitors from over the sea.

The band played "Annie Laurie" as the Post swung under Admiralty Arch into Trafalgar Square. Mounted police met the Post at the station and escorted it to its hotel adjoining the Square. Tomorrow the Americans will place a wreath on the cenotaph and on the tomb of the unknown British soldier in Westminster Abbey. Then three days will be devoted to visiting Windsor Castle and other points of interest.

POST OFFICE PAYING WELL

Gain of $1,000,000 Made in Five Months, Says Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General, in Winnipeg

MR. DUNNING TELLS OF GREAT NORTH

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26.—Three Federal cabinet ministers—Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General, and a number of prominent eastern businessmen who attended the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at Vancouver, were guests of the Young Men's section of the Winnipeg Board of Trade at a banquet here tonight.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Robb commented humorously on a resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce delegates and provoked much laughter by stating: "They are the boys I would like to meet before preparing my next budget, for I have the greatest admiration for those who could tell me how to reduce taxation and, at the same time, spend the money of the people lavishly."

Mr. Dunning predicted that the next quarter of a century would be one of great prosperity for the Dominion, and showed how the band of population was ever broadening northward, where development of natural resources would be greatest.

Finland Cruiser Takes Smuggler After Gun Fire

HELSINKI, Finland, Sept. 26.—Regular battles have been engaged in recently between liquor and excise men off the Finnish Coast, as Finland is a prohibition country. Sunday an excise boat sighted a craft run by a notorious Austrian smuggler who put up a bitter fight. Finally the coastguard vessel sent out an 809 and a Finnish cruiser responded and opened fire on the smuggler, forcing him to surrender.

BALCONY COLLAPSES IN MOTION THEATRE

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 26.—Seventy persons were injured when the balcony of a motion picture theatre at Goya, Province of Corrientes, collapsed during the performance. Few of the audience, mostly women and children, were seriously injured, however. The collapse came when the columns supporting the balcony gave way, hurling its occupants upon those seated beneath.

Torrent Spreads Over Cities and Farmlands Bringing Destruction

One-Thousand-Foot Concrete Dam Collapses During Night Under Pressure of Swollen River Rhine—Terrified People Endeavor Vainly to Fight Flood in Darkness

Frantic Appeals Sent for Help: Great Loss of Life Apprehended

INNSBRUCK, Austria, Sept. 26.—Liechtenstein, the smallest principality in the world, was almost obliterated today by the mightiest inundation the country has known. Unable to withstand the titanic pressure of the swollen rushing river Rhine, which borders the tiny principality, a 1,000-foot concrete dam, dividing Liechtenstein from Switzerland, collapsed during the night, the torrent spreading destruction in every direction.

The inhabitants fled in panic to the house-tops and hills, and although details are lacking concerning the loss of life, it is feared the number of victims will be great.

The Government has sent frantic appeals for help to the neighboring countries, but railroads, telegraphic and telephonic communications are crippled. The property damage through Liechtenstein runs into millions. Tens of thousands of cattle were drowned.

To add to the horror, Lake Constance has risen fifteen feet, threatening to engulf the entire neighboring territory.

CITY PLANNING BOND GUARANTY

May Back Worst Mill to the Extent of $150,000 Under Proposal Placed Before Council

BE NECESSARY A basis of negotiations with Mr. John Moore, of Bradford, England, in connection with the proposed worsted mill in which the city would guarantee principal and interest on $150,000 in serial bonds, was tentatively agreed to, according to a report of the special meeting of the City Council held on September 19 and submitted to last night's meeting of the council.

The following are the basic negotiations tentatively agreed to: "The worsted mill company to be a $250,000 project. The sum of $150,000 be provided by an issue, guaranteed by the city as to principal and interest, of twenty-five year, five per cent serial bonds. For the first three years interest only to be payable on the bonds. Ten per cent of the net profit of the company to be annually paid to the city. A further ten per cent of the net profits to be annually paid to the city to form a fund to assist in retiring the bonds, this to be in addition to moneys paid by the company in any year upon any serials paid off.

"In consideration of the city's foregoing guarantee, the city to be protected by a mortgage covering all the lands, buildings, machinery and plant of the company. The said mortgage to be for a period of twenty-five years and shall be with- Continued on Page 2

MOTH FLIES TO SOUTH AFRICA

On Seven Thousand-Mile Flight to Capetown—620 Mile More to Travel

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 26.—Lieutenant R. R. Bentley, instructor for the South African Air Force, landed here this afternoon on a De Havilland Moth, which he is flying from Hendon, England, to Capetown. He intends to leave for Kimberley and Capetown tomorrow on the last stage of his flight. Lieutenant Bentley started from Hendon, England, September 1. Kimberley is approximately 270 miles from Johannesburg and Capetown is 550 miles further on.

SOVIET PROPOSALS AS TO FRENCH DEBT LIGHTLY REGARDED

LONDON, Sept. 26.—English governmental and financial circles are not taking very seriously the reports of the Russo-French debt agreement because of the complications of Russia's demands for loans or credits with her offer to agree to pay French holders of Russian bonds.

The fact that Russia insists upon credits aggregating $120,000,000 during the first six years, while her payments to French bondholders for the same period would be only $72,000,000, impresses British financial writers as "fringe-comic."

In spite of general suspicion in the British press concerning the genuineness of the Soviet offer to France, many financial writers agree that no British Government would check a genuine move from Moscow to effect a settlement of her debts with Great Britain.

Car Crash Kills Three

CORNWALL, Ont., Sept. 26.—Three men, two of them residents of Montreal, were instantly killed here tonight when the coach automobile they were riding in, crashed with a light auto, sideswiped another, and then piled into a ditch.

LEAGUE MAKES SOME PROGRESS

British Woman Delegate Believes Ship of Peace Has Made Some Real Headway

By HON. EDITH LYTTLETON
Dame Commander, Order of the British Empire, and member of the British delegation to the League of Nations Assembly, GENEVA, Sept. 26.—I have been asked what we feel the eighth Assembly of the League has contributed toward the peace of the world. It is one of those questions that is almost impossible to answer.

In the Assembly where there are many currents of feeling crossing and recrossing each other, a little wind blows the ripples one way and another wind blows them back again, but as Lord Lytton, chief delegate for India, said, it was always the same, "An ardent desire for peace." My own personal opinion is that the great ship of peace has made some headway in the waters of reality. A new channel has been sounded and will be explored. The preparatory committee (for a disarmament conference) to discuss how many of the nations can help produce security by signing arbitration treaties with each other, as some of the great powers did at Locarno.

Enough arbitration treaties will bring the port of security into sight and once that port is reached the world will suddenly find peace already brooding over land and sea. Patience is needed, that and active and faithful hope.

OTTAWA EDITOR DIES SUDDENLY

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—John S. Crate, managing editor of The Ottawa Journal died suddenly here tonight. Death is ascribed to embolism or heart failure. Mr. Crate had been ill during the day, but was not thought to be in any danger. He was talking to a friend about his family when the end came. Mr. Crate came here last night on Ottawa to attend a meeting today of Ontario members of the Canadian Press, but was taken ill on arrival and was under medical care during the day.

A well-known Canadian newspaperman, he was cable editor of The Toronto Globe for some years, and later was with both The Toronto News and Toronto Star, and then with The Montreal Star.

out interest, provided the company annually makes payment to the city of ten per cent of the net profits, and also that the company from time to time takes care of all interest, principal and other payments in connection with the bonds and to fund in the hands of the city in connection with the above referred to further ten per cent of the annual net profits. In the event of default in any way of the foregoing, the mortgage to immediately become due and payable to the city.

"Lots 6 to 38, inclusive, in Block 6, Plan 1841, of the Municipality of Victoria, containing in area about two and one-half acres, to be given to the company. The said lands and factory, storage and office buildings erected thereon to be exempt from municipal taxes until the end of the year 1932. A free supply of water to be granted to the company for all reasonable requirements until the end of the year 1932, not exceeding, however, 200,000 gallons per month. Any quantity in excess of 200,000 gallons per month to be paid for from time to time at the usual rates then obtaining for industrial purposes."

The report was introduced to the City Council last night to authorize part payment of Mr. Moore's expenses to this city so that negotiations could be carried on with him. Alderman Marx opposed this motion on the grounds that the city proposed to bonus a company, which was a principle he was entirely out of accord with. The project had already been assured a free site, tax exemption and free water for a number of years, and he thought that this was sufficient. Should the project be carried through on the basis tentatively agreed to by the council, another vote of the people will be necessary.

OIL ELECTRIC IS GREAT CAR

The oil electric is proving one of the most popular exhibits at the fair of the iron horse, both with the public and with the many railwaymen who are in attendance. Its performance on the trip from Toronto to Baltimore is a topic frequently discussed by the railway fraternity here. "Say, did you hear about the Canadian oil electric run?" is a remark frequently encountered, "and the car and its performance on the way here have served to bring Canada to the fore at this big show."

Driver Palmer, in bringing the Canadian National car to Baltimore, beat the best time of every regular steam train passenger schedule of the line from Toronto to Baltimore.

FAST RUN

The run from Glencoe to Windsor, eighty miles, was made in one hour and thirty minutes. At Willard, the oil electric was scheduled to start thirty minutes ahead of No. 16 of the Baltimore & Ohio. Owing to switching delays, there was only fifteen minutes leeway when the car was in position to start. The dispatchers and operating men who had gathered at

PRACTICALLY ALL GRAIN NOW CUT

Threshing Well Advanced in Manitoba and Saskatchewan—Later in Alberta

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 26.—With the exception of a small percentage of wheat in Alberta and some late oats and flax in all three of the Prairie Provinces, grain crops in Western Canada have been cut, according to the weekly report of the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, issued today. Taking into full consideration the damage resulting from frost, rust and hail, the crop generally is considered very satisfactory, particularly in Alberta.

Oats were poor in Manitoba, but fairly good in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Danger from frost is now considered over. Barley promises to be a satisfactory crop in all three provinces, and rye, taken generally, is also satisfactory. All fodder crops are abundant and all districts will be well supplied with winter feed.

Up to the present the supply of workers has been about up to the demand.

About half the Manitoba wheat crop has been threshed, the percentage is a little less when all grains are considered. Approximately twenty per cent of the Saskatchewan wheat has been threshed, with a lower percentage for other grains. Alberta is behind other Prairie Provinces in wheat threshing, the total date being put at five per cent in the report.

In British Columbia winter applies have been improved by rains, though the wet and cool weather has not been so favorable for some of the delicate fruits.

BAHAMAN LIQUOR TANGLE FEARED

U.S. Seizure of Rum-Runner Off Islands May Lead to International Complications

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Likelihood of a new international complication arising out of the United States sea patrol against rum-runners has developed in the Bahamas Islands as a result of the arrest of Charles H. Nestle, a former United States prohibition agent, for alleged unauthorized participation in the seizure of a rum smuggler by the United States coastguard in British waters.

Nestle was charged by the rum vessels crew with having appropriated a part of the liquor cargo and of having had some of it in his possession at the time of his arrest. The rum runner is said to be a United States ship.

LOWER TELEPHONE RATES DISCUSSED

City Is Considering Making Application to Railway Commission for Lower Rates

An application may be made by the city to the Railway Commission for a reduction in telephone rates. The question was brought up at last night's meeting of the City Council. It was given that the board would sit here on October 22. Alderman Woodward wanted to know if the board still dealt with the telephone rates. He remembered that some years ago the telephone company applied to the railway board for an increase in rates and received it. Shortly after that company sold out to another concern at a big profit.

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle said that it would take several weeks to prepare the case and it was his opinion that other cities should join in the application so that the city's hands would be strengthened. The solicitor will look into the application made by the B. C. Telephone Company to the Railway Commission for higher rates and report back to the Council when the question of applying for lower rates will be decided upon.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26.—C. A. "Duke" Schiller, in his monoplane, Royal Windsor, may visit Vancouver, Major D. R. MacLaren, president of the Air Force Club of British Columbia, stated that a wire from the club inviting the Canadian flyer, who have just completed a one-stop flight from New York to Spokane, to visit Vancouver, will be sent today.

The giant Stinson-Detrolter plane would probably make its landing on Lulu Island in the event of the invitation of the club being accepted. Following his arrival at Spokane, after his flight across the continent, Schiller expressed the hope that the flight across the Atlantic, which was abandoned after the loss of the other Canadian aspirant, the Sir John Carling, may yet be made by the Royal Windsor.

VICTORIA MAY SEND DELEGATE

SESSIONS OPEN AT STRATFORD SOON

Victoria hopes to have a delegate at the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the National Council of Women to be held at Stratford, Ontario, October 4, 5, 6 and 7. The agenda for the annual meeting at Stratford shows that various local councils across the Dominion have been giving serious consideration to matters of social legislation. British Columbia's contribution in this respect extends to two resolutions, one asking for a survey of divorce laws and the practice and procedure appertaining to the same in each province, and for the establishment of a just basis in the granting of alimony, and the second asking that the National Council should request the Dominion Government to grant women the right to be appointed members of the Senate, or, if the British North America Act forbids, or debar women from being so appointed, that the Imperial Government be requested to amend the Act so that this right may be granted.

ACT IS INVALID, PLAINTIFF SAYS

Judgment Reserved on Application for Declaration That Land Settlement Act Is Ultra Vires

Mr. Justice Morrison reserved judgment in Supreme Court Chambers here yesterday on the application made by Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., on behalf of Mr. Frank M. Rattenbury, for a declaration that the Land Settlement and Development Act is ultra vires. Mr. Maclean and Mr. Archie M. Johnson, K.C., the latter appearing as counsel for the Land Settlement Board, argued for nearly two hours before His Lordship on points involved in the proceedings.

Title to 40,000 acres of land, situated 200 miles east of Prince Rupert, in the Bulkley Valley, is involved in the main issue of the controversy. Mr. Maclean declared that Mr. F. M. Rattenbury purchased the said property in 1908-9, along the projected route of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and intended to colonize the land and sell the holdings as the railway was completed, and paid a considerable price for the property.

The railway was put through in 1914, followed by the war period, which retarded the settlement plans until 1917. Then the plaintiff made preparations to proceed with the scheme. In 1917, he continued Mr. Maclean, the Land Settlement Act was passed by the Provincial Legislature, with the object of promoting settlement by advancing loans. The Land Settlement Board was made a corporation, with power to make agricultural loans and to buy land under the act.

"ACT NOT CARRIED OUT"
 The board approached Mr. Rattenbury, stated Mr. Maclean further, in negotiations which led to a $6 per acre offer from Maxwell Smith, the chairman of the board, for the Rattenbury holding, or $240,000 for the 40,000 acres. Though the land had cost between $10 and $11 by that time in purchase price, interest, taxes and other charges, plaintiff had been ready to accept the board's offer of $240,000. The agreement was never carried out.

In 1919 the act was amended, giving the board power to serve notice of arbitrary purchase on an appraised value and creating a penalty of an additional five per cent for land unimproved to a certain value per acre, $2.50 per acre per year in the case of the plaintiff. That meant, continued Mr. Maclean, that the plaintiff either had to sell his land at a figure far below the $6 first offered by the board, and far below its cost to him, or else pay out $90,000 a year to hold it under the improvement provisions. This, submitted counsel for the owner, was little short of "confiscation."

It was the 1919 amendments to the act that plaintiff asserted to be ultra vires of the province, and now sought a court declaration to that effect, concluded Mr. Maclean.

CLAIMS ACT ULTRA VIRES
 Mr. Maclean claimed that the Land Settlement Act was ultra vires in that it was in effect indirect taxation in that the penalty provisions for the non-improvement of land were passed on by the encumbrancers. He waived the right to proceed by petition of right in favor of a reference to the courts for the purpose of obtaining a declaratory judgment on the act's validity.

Mr. A. M. Johnson, K.C., in replying, stated that the Land Settlement Board, a part of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, was the servant of the Crown and therefore, could not be sued. He stated that its powers were confined to specific purposes, and while it was described as a body corporate, it did not have any other functions than those expressly set out, and so could not be sued.

FRASER HAS NO FISH SPAWNING

MR. J. P. BABCOCK PAINTS DISMAL PICTURE OF SITUATION

Sockeye Practically Eliminated From Upper Sections, Says Deputy Commissioner

In the report which Mr. J. P. Babcock, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries for the province, has presented to the Minister, a rather dismal picture is painted of the situation on the spawning grounds of the Upper Fraser River, following his annual visit to that area.

The section of the river above Hell's Gate, according to Mr. Babcock, has fewer sockeye salmon than he has seen of heard of in any season for the past twenty-five years. It is in fact practically without spawning sockeye.

The late run of fish which spawns in the Shuswap sections has yet to be heard from, and the Deputy Commissioner has hopes that from indications in the river that there will be a satisfactory showing there.

The report of Mr. Babcock to the Commissioner of Fisheries, Mr. William Sloan, summarizes the position of affairs as follows:

"I saw and heard of less sockeye in the spawning areas of the Fraser River above Hell's Gate canyon this year than in any one of the preceding twenty-five years in which I have hunted for them there in August and September. The number of sockeye that reached there this season was too small to attract attention. It was like hunting for a needle in a haystack. In no section of the upper Fraser basin which I visited—which includes Stuart, Fraser, Burns, Francois, Quesnel, Chilco, Selon, Anderson and Shuswap Lake sections—were sockeye in numbers worthy of record seen or reported. In most sections I did not see or hear of a single sockeye this year. There can be no commercial return four years hence from the sockeye that spawned in the upper Fraser in August and September this year."

It is too early in the season to judge of conditions in the other, the lower section of the Fraser, the section below Hell's Gate, and where the majority of the late running sockeye usually spawn in October and November.

"The fact that the catches of sockeye in the Fraser itself and in the Gulf of Georgia in the last two weeks have been the best made there this year; and the further fact, a most important one, that a seventy-two-hour weekly closed season has been given these late running fish in the Gulf and lower river, and seventy-eight hours between New Westminster bridge and Mission Bridge—affords some grounds for hope that a considerable number may reach Shuswap Lake section and spawn there as the late run did last year in October."

More than $1,000,000 in Panama hats were sent from Ecuador in the past year.

BUSINESS TIDE EBB STUDIED

Professor E. S. Farr Quotes From Financiers to Show Circle of Succeeding Periods Is Constant

STATISTICIANS SEEK SOLUTION

The subject of business cycles was discussed last evening by Professor E. S. Farr, of Victoria College, at the weekly dinner of Ye Knights of the Round Table. He pointed out that according to the opinions of economists, business was constantly moving up and down, as compared with the mean line of normal conditions. Mr. Roger Babson held that there was a circular trend covering a range of time.

In this course the following conditions succeeded one another, starting with increasing money rates which would be followed by declining stock prices; lower commodity prices; and finally declining real estate prices.

Then followed low money rates; increasing bond prices; increasing stock prices; increasing commodity prices; and finally increasing real estate prices.

The speaker said that he did not know that these conditions, following one another in the order given were exactly true today.

HISTORY OF FLUCTUATIONS
Tracing the history of the fluctuations in the business line from the beginning of 1890 to the present, Professor Farr said that the peaks as to prices were coincident with the great wars that had occurred in the history of the world.

Dealing with the periods through which the cycle passed, the speaker alluded to the period of prosperity as a starting point. In such a time prices were high. Wages were also high, while money was being sought for use in various securities. Bank credits were extended in the securing of materials.

This brought about the period of decline and with the period of prosperity labor was inclined to become less efficient. Materials increased in price. Profits began to decline and with it all bank discount rates rose, and loans were called in. The decline that came sometimes led to a crisis in which sacrifices were made in the line of commodities. Sometimes such a condition led to a panic, which was characterized by distrust in the banks.

The period of depression was of various characters. Sometimes the recovery was slow, while at other times there was a quick comeback to more normal conditions. A profitable crop like that of 1924 in the United States would sometimes account for the quick recovery.

Characteristic of such conditions, bank reserves were increased with the decline in loans.

The period of recovery followed with low wages at the start and with low stocks of goods on hand, all of which prepared the way for the period of prosperity to be ushered in.

Professor Farr touched upon the evil effects of these fluctuations. He said they were injurious to the wage earner. This was especially true in view of the fact that wages had a tendency to lag behind with the alteration from a period of depression to better times. With it came unemployment with all its evils. The building trades suffered.

ZENITH TO NADIR

With the period of expansion coming there was the evil effect of over-expansion which was followed by unemployment. If there could be elimination of expansion and depression there would be little to lose, and much to gain, he said.

Applying himself to the question of the remedy for the situation, which was to be deplored, the speaker pointed to the good effects that had followed the creation in the United States of the Federal Reserve Board, which stabilized credits by curtailing the expansion of credits. The lack of a panic both in 1920 and 1924 in the United States under the conditions that prevailed there in those years was due, it was felt, to the Federal Reserve. It became a question of how long that

Victoria Voters' List to Be Made Representative

IN order to make the City Voters' List as representative as possible, the City Council last night decided to employ a man to visit the large firms of this city and register those employees on the voters' list who have paid their poll tax this year. The voters' list opens on October 1. Mr. John Baxter and Mr. J. E. Gowan have been appointed to take registrations in addition to Mr. Frank Hunter, the city clerk.

method of avoiding a depression could be made to operate.

The speaker asked if it were possible to discover the cause and avert disaster. The forecasting he felt of a situation might lead to the avoiding of a period of expansion with good results. Statisticians were studying the situation and were aiding it, it was true, in the matter of avoiding the evils. There was a shortening of the period of depression or the avoidance of a panic as a result of the study of these experts which made for a benefit all round.

A discussion followed in which a number of members took part, including Messrs. J. C. Newmarch, W. T. Straith, H. D. Patterson, F. E. Winslow, O. B. Ormond, and the president, Colonel W. T. Winsby.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker for the information given. A special feature of the evening's dinner, which was held at the Empress Hotel, was the fact that there was served fish which had been caught by the members of the organization and donated for the purpose. In this connection thanks were extended to Mr. W. T. Straith and his brother, Mr. Balfour Straith, Colonel D. Martyn, Mr. H. D. Patterson, and others.

MUCH ESTEEMED TEACHER PASSES

Miss Jenny Isabel Macleod Had Been Member of High School Teaching Staff Since 1914

After a lingering illness, Miss Jenny Isabel Macleod, for the past seventeen years a member of the Victoria schools' teaching staff, passed away on Sunday afternoon. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the B.C. Funeral Chapel, and immediately afterwards from Christ Church Cathedral, where the Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan will conduct the services.

Held in the highest affection and esteem by all her colleagues and pupils, Miss Jenny Macleod had been a teacher of the Victoria High School for thirteen years, and before that for several years at the George Jay School, the staff of which she joined in 1910. Although she had been in indifferent health for some time, she taught up to the time of school closing last June, with the exception of the period between December and Easter, when she was given leave of absence owing to illness.

Miss Macleod was born in Prince Edward Island, the daughter of the late Judge Macleod and Mrs. Macleod, and was educated at Prince Edward College and Acadia University, from which she received her B.A. degree. Before she came out to British Columbia to take a position on the staff of George Jay School she taught for a short time in the Eastern states. Her appointment to the Victoria High School staff was in 1914, during the principality of Dr. S. J. Willis, and with the exception of a year's absence about four years ago, when she and her sister went to Europe, she had been a member of the High School staff ever since. Of a cheerful and animated disposition, and at the same time a capable and energetic worker, she was popular alike with her colleagues and students.

During assembly at the High School yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, Mr. Ira Dilworth, the principal, paid a fitting tribute to Miss Macleod. School is to be dismissed at 2 o'clock this afternoon as a mark of esteem to her memory. The administrative section of the staff will be represented at the funeral by Principal Dilworth and Vice-Principal Harry Smith; and the teaching staff and student body will also be represented, officers of the Students' Association attending in a body.

Mrs. Macleod, the mother, died last November.

The following tribute to Miss Macleod was rendered by Mr. Dilworth, principal of the High School, last evening:

"It is quite impossible adequately to express the sense of loss experienced alike by the staff and students of Victoria High School in the passing of Miss Jenny Macleod. Among her associates Miss Macleod has been recognized through all the years of her faithful service as representing the highest professional qualities, generosity, ready sympathy, unfaltering loyalty and the most unquestionable integrity of purpose in her work. Among her pupils the high standard of achievement which she set and her consistent refinement of nature exerted a profound influence. To all who were associated with her, the courage with which she faced, during the past few months, extreme suffering, and carried on her duties to the end of last term at school, will remain a source of very real inspiration."

Before 1929

NELSON, Sept. 26.—Premier MacLean arrived in Nelson last night from the Crow's Nest Pass, where in the last three nights he has addressed public meetings at Fernie, Cranbrook and Kimberley. He is due to speak here tonight.

Asked when the Nelson by-election might be expected, the Premier said he would make the same frank statement that he made to a group of political friends and opponents in Vancouver who asked him when the New Westminster by-election was coming.

"I told them," remarked the Premier, with a broad smile, "that I would tell them as close as I could, and that it would be sometime before 1929."

Making the Canadian Dollar Go Farther than Ever Before

IN the purchase of the common commodities of life, the Canadian dollar has decreased in value during the past decade.

But, in the purchase of an automobile, the dollar is now worth one hundred to two hundred percent more than it was seven to ten years ago—is worth more, in fact, than ever before in history.

While constantly raising the quality standard of its products, General Motors of Canada has increased the purchasing power of the Canadian car-buyer's dollar . . .

. . . by the economies of volume purchasing and production,

. . . by the close co-ordination of resources and facilities,

. . . by improved labor- and time-saving methods of manufacture,

. . . by sharing with Canada the savings effected by increased production.

In quality and in value, the Canadian dollar now goes farther than ever before in the purchase of a General Motors car.

PENSION LAW TO BE DRAFTED

CITY COUNCIL INSTRUCTS SOLICITOR TO PREPARE SUPERANNUATION MEASURE

Committee Recommends Formation of Board of Pensioners to Civil Service Commission

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle was instructed at last night's meeting of the Council to draft a superannuation by-law along the lines laid out in the tentative scheme which has been placed before the City Council. This course was adopted on the recommendation of Ald. Marchant, so that any changes recommended by either the Council or the employees could be embodied in the by-law without any unnecessary delay. Ald. Marchant, in recommending that a by-law be drafted, expressed the belief that this would be an earnest of the Council's intentions and would create a little more confidence in the Council by the employees.

The Council also adopted recommendations submitted by Ald. Marchant, as chairman of the superannuation committee, which will have a far-reaching effect in employing men in the future. The recommendations are as follows:

"That a civil service committee be appointed, to consist of the Mayor, Aldermen Marchant, Holmes and Litchfield, and an advisory board, comprising Comptroller D. A. MacDonald, Dr. A. G. Price and City Solicitor H. S. Pringle, whose duties shall be to consider all matters relating to the appointment of employees—whether temporary or permanent, organization of staff, salaries, wages, holidays, hours of service, dismissal, retirement and superannuation, and to report their findings and recommendations to the City Council from time to time."

"That the controller be instructed to prepare lists of all permanent employees, giving full particulars as to age, date of permanent appointment by the City Council, or by an official authorized to employ or appoint; salary or wages, stating whether service has been continuous or otherwise; such statements to be verified by the heads of the respective departments. If the records available are insufficient, the employees must be personally examined, and a statement made on oath as to the accuracy thereof, suitable forms to be provided for the purpose."

"That the city solicitor be instructed to advise the City Council as to the legality of superannuating day workers, who from the nature of their employment may be, or are, dismissed from continuous service through either lack of funds, cessation of work, completion of job or weather conditions, and to make a special report in relation to the men employed on the boulevards or similar seasonal work."

Probably the most important clause in these recommendations is that forming what is tantamount to a civil service commission. By the formation of this board educational and other standards required of new employees will be set, and the appointment of new members of the staff will be made as applicants come up to the standards set by the board.

That London will have a population of 20,000,000 in the year 2000, is a recent prediction of statisticians.

Under the Clock

City Hall Activities in Brief

From now on the City Council will meet every Monday night. Mayor J. Carr Pendry announced at the close of last night's session of the council. During the summer months the meeting was held every other Monday.

The sum of $4,500 will be spent on repaving Belleville Street, between Menzies and Oswego Streets.

The value of the West Coast road to Victoria is stressed by Alderman Woodward at last night's meeting of the council in recommending that Victoria rejoin the Good Roads League of British Columbia and send a delegate to the convention to be held at Nanaimo on October 17. The city decided to rejoin and its delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will be delegates to the road convention.

City Clerk Frank Hunter and Mr. John Baxter, Mayor's secretary, were appointed delegates to the Municipal Officers' Association meeting, to be held at Nanaimo on October 17.

The finance committee reported the purchase for sinking fund investment of $2,478 City of Victoria 4 1/2 per cent stock due 1962, at $95 and accrued interest, to yield 5.19 per cent.

In receiving the monthly report of the Chief of Police, Dr. A. G. Price, special mention was made at last night's meeting of the council of the excellent health condition in Victoria. Alderman Litchfield pointed out that so far this month only one minor infectious disease had been reported. This was a record for this city.

Series of Health Inspections Will Be Started Soon

A series of school inspections will be started on Thursday by Dr. D. Berman, newly appointed medical health officer of the Saanich Municipality.

Dr. Berman intends to gather information so that he will have on file the health record of every Saanich child attending school. The start will be made Thursday morning in the primary grades of the Tillamook School. Dr. Berman will first visit the primary grades, as these are the most important where infectious diseases are concerned. Questionnaires have been sent to the parents and the filling in of these questionnaires and returning them to the teacher will facilitate the work to be undertaken by the new medical health officer.

Dr. Berman, who has come to Saanich through the agency of the Rockefeller Foundation, is a Canadian. He graduated from McGill University, where he later taught public health and bacteriology. He was also professor of hygiene and sanitation, as well as school health officer at Antioch College, but recently has been health officer of West Virginia, coming from that work to take up his duties in Saanich.

Chief Justice Hunter to Hear Motion in Vancouver on Behalf of Rev. Father P. O'Connor

Chief Justice Gordon Hunter will hear a motion in Vancouver on Thursday, October 6, for a stay of extradition proceedings on behalf of Rev. Father P. O'Connor. Writs of habeas corpus and certiorari, giving the right to speak to a motion for stay of extradition were secured on Thursday by Mr. W. B. Cochrane, Vancouver solicitor, for Father O'Connor, from the Chief Justice in his residence at Shawinigan Lake. Counsel obtained his release of the priest on bail in the sum of $5,000, in two sureties of $2,500 each, with writs returnable yesterday at 3 p.m., when argument before his lordship was scheduled here.

The hearing, however, was postponed from yesterday until October 6, in Vancouver. Rev. Father O'Connor was concerned in extradition proceedings before His Honor Judge Cayley in Vancouver, when United States authorities asked for him on warrants originating in the State of Alabama, where, it is asserted, the priest is wanted to face trial for alleged complicity in a criminal operation. The writs were obtained for the writs giving him leave to reopen the extradition proceedings were made before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in Vancouver, and refused.

The city police team returned yesterday from the international revolver shoot at Fort Lenton, Wash., with the perpetual challenge cup, representing the Canadian Western championship, while each member brought back medals and prizes for shooting.

With teams of various cities competing against them, the five Victoria marksmen stood up in the last stages of the competition, shot 150 points better than they did last year, to win handsly. Marcus Phipps was the high scorer of the local squad. He fired 417 out of a possible 450. In the "running man" target competition, Phipps turned in a perfect card. He fired a "beautiful" possible, 150 out of 150.

William Stark was second in the ranking Victoria shots, with a score of 408. Albert Wells turned in three cards of eighty-two in events where 100 was the maximum and was among the best marksmen on the range in every event. John Rogers shot well and Walter Caldwell fired with precision and boosted his teammates up the ladder.

JOHN WHEATLEY OFFERS TO RESIGN

GLASGOW, Sept. 26.—It is understood that John Wheatley, Labor M.P. for the Shetland Division of Glasgow, Minister of Health in the late Labor Government, has offered his resignation to the local Labor caucus.

This intimation is especially interesting in view of the fact that at one time John Wheatley was considered a possible successor to J. Ramsay MacDonald, a former premier, as leader of the Labor party.

Mr. Wheatley, who is generally regarded as holding advanced Socialist views, has represented the Shetland Division of Glasgow in the Commons since 1922.

To Hold Concert

The Metropolitan Brotherhood is planning to hold a high class concert on Tuesday, October 4, in the church, by leading Victoria artists. On Tuesday last at their regular meeting, Dr. Sippell gave his impressions of California as received during his recent visit there. A pleasant and instructive evening was passed, and an active Winter season is looked forward to by the membership.

Licenses to sell cigarettes and tobacco in London between 8 o'clock at night and midnight are now granted only to the coffee stalls.

Furs for Autumn Wear

Long Roll Collars Seen on Most of the New Coats—Skunk One of Most Popular Furs

The furs that are to be worn in the autumn do not appear to differ much from those in fashion last year, but there may be a few that are not familiar, such as zebra skin which is perhaps too conspicuous says an article in The London Times. For a large coat the choice lies between a coat wholly of one fur and a coat that is trimmed with another. There are slender coats of seal dyed musquash with long roll collars continued in the backs, and others of fine mink with long roll collars and the skins worked over. Some of the broadtail coats are slim and have long roll collars of broadtail, and the new mole skin coats are often made in the same way, since the fashion for long roll collars suits those who like a coat of one fur only.

Among the wraps that are trimmed with other furs is a handsome broadtail coat with a big silver fox collar; two whole silver fox skins arranged on the skirt leave a deep hem of the broadtail and the two fox-heads almost meet at the back. Where a coat is not of a single fur the trimming is often rather fussy and deep-piled furs make the best trimming. Silver fox is at its best on such a light fur as broadtail, where the diagonal sweep of the skins looks well when the coat is wrapped round the figure. Fur hems can look very heavy when mounted on furs that are heavy in themselves. Too much fur trimming on a fur coat may look rich and costly, but it often foreshadows the figure. Sleeves have to be carefully chosen, for some of them in bell shapes and other full designs widen the general appearance of the wearer. Sleeves like these are best left to those who are tall enough to carry them off.

DYED FURS USED

So many coats are trimmed with dyed fox that it is a wonder where all the fox skins come from; there seems, however, to be no dearth of them, though prices are higher. Fox dyed in pale cocoa tones trims dyed ermine coats. Many of them are made with large sleeves trimmed with deep borders of fur. Shaded Russian sable trim coats of Persian lamb and dyed kolinsky, lynx and mink trim others.

Skunk, which has been out of favor for some years, is reappearing as a trimming for fur and cloth coats. It is a most becoming and hard-wearing fur, but does not yield to dyeing and working as more popular pelts do; and its odor, though it has now been almost eliminated, has been against it. The white hairs which are in the raw skins are all carefully plucked out and the fur then is glossy black with a faint brown in it.

VARIETY OF FURS

Years ago lynx was inexpensive and was left for school girls; now it is one of the dearest of the minor furs and trims some of the best fur coats besides cloth coats and woolen and tweed coats. Flying squirrel and king fox are other supplementary furs which serve as trimmings when a light-colored fur is wanted. Among small furs and skins there are a good many of silver fox. They are not opened so much as they were last season, and so look deeper. Two skin stoles are made of the lighter skins, and white foxes are being dyed to go with Autumn suits. The fashion of slinging a fox fur with the tail and paws to the back seems happily to have passed; the fur now crosses over to one side in front.

A good many fur-lined coats are of black, satin lined and trimmed with moleskin. On one of them the sleeves are wide round the elbow, but taper to the wrist. Many black satin coats are being trimmed with skunk and lined with squirrel flank. There are also capes of various furs; one made of mink tails, has been lined with georgette and is very light. Others are of moleskin with a nounced movement, and there are others of a richer fur which would do as evening as well as day wraps. Capes are not as useful as coats and are generally bought by those who already have fur coats.

MANY DONATIONS GIVEN TO CHAPTER

A pleasant afternoon was held at the home of Mrs. Davis Miller, 824 McClure Street, on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the members of the former Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter, I.O.D.E. A continuous stream of guests arriving during the afternoon, lent their presence and good wishes for the occasion, among whom was Mrs. Hobden Gillespie, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., and Mrs. Laundry, regent of the Bishop Criddle Ministering Chapter, I.O.D.E. Mrs. Frank Adams and Mrs. Justin Gilbert of the Y.W.C.A. committee, and the members and well wishers of the Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter.

The floral decorations in the reception rooms were Michaelmas daisies and golden rod, and in the tearoom a large bowl of varicolored chrysanthemums centred the table and golden glow. The fireplace Mrs. David Miller was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. J. H. Macfarlane and Mrs. W. G. Cameron. Mrs. H. Puckle and Mrs. Agnes Campbell presided at the tea table. This party reached Vancouver on Saturday, August 20, and came to Victoria on Monday, August 22, being taken for a drive to Butchart's Gardens and afterwards

ANACORTES TRIP IS SCENIC ONE

Myriad Small Islands and Narrow Channels Feature Course From Sidney

One of the most scenic water trips through the gulf is the ferry journey from Sidney to Anacortes, through myriads of small islands and narrow channels.

Leaving Sidney at 8:30 o'clock in the morning the ferry passes Jones, Sidney, Gooch, Spieden, San Juan, Shaw, Grass, Lopez, Blakely, Decatur, Cypress, Guemes, and finally reaches Anacortes, which is situated on Fidalgo Island, rendered an island by three small streams running from a deep sea channel southeast of the town. Countless other small islands are passed on the way over, uninhabited and often unnamed.

The first stop made on the way over is at Rock Harbor, on San Juan Island, where there is one of the largest lime works in the West. The village is terraced on the hillside and consists of white-painted cottages with green roofs. The lime works are also painted white and green, completely matching the surroundings. Tall fir trees grow here and there, adding a pleasing touch of natural beauty to the village which is also enhanced by vistas of green grass and numerous flower beds.

Passing through narrow passages and past many small islands thickly covered with trees, Spieden Island is reached. At the present time the grass on the island is colored a yellowish green tint which contrasts strangely with the deep green of the oak and fir trees. There is only one resident of Spieden Island, a rancher who raises sheep for both American and Canadian markets.

The next stop is at Orcas Island, conspicuous with a large welcome sign at the wharf. Orcas possesses several fine farms and several good roads leading to all parts. At one end of the island there is a perpendicular cliff projecting at right angles to the sea, known as "Devil's Leap." Volcanic rocks and plover's honeycombed caves afford points of interest to the tourist.

Lopez Island is the next stop made by the City of Angeles. A new ferry wharf has been built there for the convenience of tourists and residents, who are now able to drive right onto the ferry without any trouble. Hunting at present is said to be very good on the island.

The fourth and last stop is made at Anacortes, a small town with a waterfront capable of handling any amount of shipping. Last Sunday several lumber vessels were loading there and about twenty tug boats were berthed waiting for business on Monday. Several were of the seagoing type, registered at San Francisco. The usual coast guard "vigilance vessels" were tied up at a dock near where the day steamer berths.

On the return trip to Victoria the majority of passengers and automobiles were Canadian, many returning from the aerial tournament at Spokane.

Barrel Stave Duty

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Imposition of a duty of twenty-five per cent on all barrel staves and heading entering Canada with the exception of oak used for wine and spirit barrels was requested before the tariff advisory board today. Decision was reserved by the chairman, Mr. W. H. Moore.

The application was made by the Canadian Western Coopers, Ltd., of Victoria, while Mr. H. F. Wilson, Kitchener, on behalf of several Ontario coopers companies, opposed the request.

Canada and League

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—Senator Raoul Dandurand, Canadian representative on the Council of the League of Nations, assures Reuters' News Agency that the allegation that he emphasized Canada's independence as a member of the League Council was quite untrue. The only statement for which he was responsible was the statement he made before the League Assembly when Canada was elected to a seat on the Council.

Sensor Dandurand qualified the alleged quotation as absurd, and said that he failed to understand what "independence" meant in connection with the matter.

WHALING SEASON OPENS IN SOUTH

Mammals Reported Numerous in Waters Off Southern California Coast-Line

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 26.—The whaling season opened off the Southern California coast yesterday, when two craft of the newly-formed Los Angeles Whaling Company put to sea for the vicinity of San Clemente Island, where they plan to establish a base.

Following the departure of the factory ship Coronado, and the killer boat, Clemente, yesterday, the second killer, the Barbara, probably will leave port today. Reports have been that the whales were numerous all the way from the southern tip of Lower California to the Santa Barbara Islands.

Why is HÖVIS the "Bread of Health"?

What is the Secret of the HÖVIS Flavor?

ITS the Flour that makes the difference. No other bread flour is milled in quite the same way as HÖVIS.

For it contains a large proportion of wheat germ, which is the most nutritious part of the wheat grain.

The result is that HÖVIS Bread, baked by leading Canadian bakers, contains those precious, health-giving vitamins and more of the true nutriment of the wheat.

That's why HÖVIS Bread—"the bread of health"—is so different and so much better for you.

BETTER ingredients always make better bread. But there is one particular ingredient present in such abundance in HÖVIS Bread as to give it a value no other bread possesses.

That ingredient is the wheat germ, scientifically combined in HÖVIS Flour.

You have only to taste HÖVIS Bread once, to realize the difference this makes!

And you are certain to enjoy it—just as thousands of others do.

Costs a little more—worth much more.

Why the name HÖVIS? It is coined from the two Latin words "Hominis Vi" and means "The Strength of Man"

HÖVIS Flour is made by the millers of PURITY FLOUR—trade-mark protected.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday evening when Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., united in marriage Catherine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGregor, 1235 Styles Street, to Mr. George Ward, son of the late Mr. F. Ward and Mrs. Ward, of 504 Craigflower Road.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, looked charming in her wedding gown of French beaded georgette, over white satin, with which she wore an embroidered net veil arranged in Spanish style with an orange blossom bandeau. Her bouquet was of Ophelia rose buds, white carnations and maidenhair fern. She was attended by her sister, Joan, in a frock of pink georgette trimmed with rhinestones, with which she wore a rhinestone bandeau. Her bouquet was of pink and mauve sweet peas and fern.

The groom was supported by Mr. Gordon Harris. The ushers were Mr. David Lewis and Mr. D. English. Wedding music was played by Mr. W. C. Fife, and during the signing of the register, Miss Laura White sang "Because."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at which a large number of relatives and friends were present. The young couple were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. J. McGregor and Mrs. Ward, mother of the groom. The table, beautifully decorated with pink and white asters, was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Delicious refreshments were served. The bride and groom were assisted at the table by Mrs. W. Saunders and Mrs. F. V. Painter.

The House of Rogues

By CHRISTOPHER B. BOOTH

CHAPTER V The Print of a Hand

John Strawn had become a past master in that difficult art of concealing mental stress. He adorned his good natured urbanity and when he again joined Mrs. Eastman, Polly and Vera Kingslake at the cellar stairs his face gave no evidence of the unpleasant scene that had just passed between himself and Paul.

Bob Doliver had got the keys from Jagers and had thus unobtrusively joined the little group set out to explore the lower regions of the house, the place where the King of Counterfeiters had executed bogus currency to the amount of hundreds of thousands. Strawn took the key from Bob and unlocked the door.

"Don't worry about coal-dust or cobwebs," laughed the master of the house. "You'll find the place clean as a new whistle." He snapped on a light. "And there'll be no shadows for lurking 'haunts,' you see."

"It would have been much more thrilling by candlelight," said Mrs. Kingslake, but, at that, I think I like it better this way."

In the light of the glimmer that John Strawn had woven about the "money factory," Polly was somewhat disappointed and said so.

"I expected to find secret rooms and all that sort of thing," she complained, as, reaching the end of the basement, she saw only a "com out" from the rest of the space by a stone partition and an ordinary looking door. Within this room there were some work benches and nothing else; every article used in counterfeiting had been seized by the Government men as evidence fifteen years before.

"There was really no good in secret rooms," answered Strawn, "for the moment that the Black fell under suspicion he was through. His long success had not done him any good. When he said came it was so swift that he had no time to destroy his printing and engraving plant."

"Crash! Ten feet away a loose board, leaning against an upturned box, clattered to the floor with almost the violence of an explosion. "Oh!" screamed Mrs. Eastman, and groped for the wall. Even John Strawn for a moment was startled out of his calm, and Polly clung to Bob Doliver's arm, pressing close to him. A quiver went through Bob; it was not fear, but her electrifying nearness.

"Someone is behind—that box!" whispered Vera Kingslake. There was a rustle of paper and a grey streak sped across the brick floor.

"A rat!" grunted Strawn. "Don't be alarmed, ladies; it's only a rat."

"Only—a rat?" moaned Mrs. Eastman. "Take—take me out of this horrible place." She might have even preferred the Black Fox. "I know that I shan't sleep a wink this night."

"I'm not wild about rodents myself," said Polly. "The cellar has given us our thrill and I think I'll go to bed." Her fingers released their clutch about Bob's sleeve, and as she looked up at him with a brief, tremulous little smile, Bob gulped.

John Strawn scowled slightly; he made up his mind that he would propose to Polly at the first opportunity and that he would make that opportunity in the morning.

The five retraced their steps to the stairs. Strawn suggested that they tarry to have a good-night cocktail and listen to the radio that he had installed for evening diversion, but Mrs. Eastman, seconded by her daughter's suggestion about retiring. Thus they all decided to turn in, and it was Polly who took the lead up the steps to the second floor, she seemed just a little anxious to get off by herself.

It might have been an apprehensive state of mind superinduced by the moment of fright in the cellar, but she paused in front of the closed door of the book-walled room wherein had been found the pieces of a mighty wicked looking little gun. Perhaps that sound which had been so sure of hearing in this room had, likewise, been the scurrying of a rat. She listened, either the actual hearing of it or it was a trick of the imagination, but—on the other side of the door there was a faint thump as of a body jarring against a piece of furniture.

Polly checked the cry which rose in her throat. Once there had been a laugh at her expense and she didn't propose to let herself be accused of indulging in further fancied. Yet—she had been very sure. Her hand went to the knob; slowly, almost unwillingly, she turned it—very quietly, almost soundlessly. The heavy door swung back two inches, then four, her face bent toward the cautiously widening space.

It was dark; she saw nothing, but that vague sixth sense which tells us of another presence, warned her that in the blackness before her there was some silent but living thing. She was almost certain that she could hear strained breathing. Frantically she jerked the door shut, her hands straining to the knob as if to thwart an effort of that thing to break through upon her. She did not scream; her throat was paralyzed. She could not even call to Strawn or Bob Doliver who were approaching up the stairway.

Bob Doliver saw her first; her slim form silhouetted in the gloom as her body strained bracingly at the door. He stared forward, and, coming nearer, saw the look of terror on her face.

"Polly! What's wrong?" His presence relieved the fear-stricken tension; the girl's arm swung limply to her sides and she staggered back with a half sob in her throat.

"This time," she whispered, "I'm not mistaken. There—there's someone—in that room. There—there was a light—through the keyhole, and I heard—someone moving."

"I think it must be your nerves," said Bob. "Strawn shouldn't have taken you into that rat-populated cellar."

"There's someone in that room!" cried Polly again, her voice rising to a louder pitch.

"What's this?" laughed John Strawn. "Are you hearing noises again, child?"

"There's someone in that room," Polly insisted for the third time. "If you don't believe it—open the door."

Doliver instantly acted upon this suggestion, and, with a quick sweep of his arm, flung the door wide.

"Careful!" cautioned Vera Kingslake. "The goblins'll get you!"

"Where the devil is that light?" demanded Bob, plunging forward.

"Here it is, on the wall," said Strawn from behind, and jabbing in the button of the switch. The incandescent bulbs burst into a flood of light and disclosed the room—empty!

"Polly, I'm ashamed of you!" snapped her mother. "Haven't we had enough of fright for one night without you?"

"I tell you that there was someone in this room!" cried Polly, her voice trembling. Instead of being calmed by the evidence that she had been wrong, the mystery of it only served to increase her terror. "I am not mistaken; I know that I'm not mistaken."

"Stuff and nonsense!" scoffed Vera Kingslake. "If there had been anyone in the room they'd still be here. There isn't but one door, the one you were standing in front of."

"It makes no difference," answered Polly. "I know what I saw and heard—and felt. I opened the door and—"

"You saw someone?" demanded Strawn.

"No, no, I didn't see anyone; it was too dark to see anything, but—I felt—a presence."

"Rubbish!" derided Mrs. Kingslake. "Yes, I know what you mean," nodded Bob. "One night I woke up with the feeling that there was someone in the room with me. I listened, but there wasn't a sound, but when I snapped on the light I found myself staring into the bore of a mighty wicked looking little gun held in the hand of a mighty wicked looking man who'd called on me to take what he could find. Oh, yes, there's such a sensation as that, but—"

"But there's no one here," interrupted Strawn with a smile: "that rather seems to settle the argument about it."

"I know that I wasn't mistaken," Polly insisted, becoming a trifle hysterical. "There was a light through the keyhole; that was something I saw with my eyes. I couldn't very well imagine that."

"How about the windows?" suggested Bob Doliver.

"Fastened, I think you'll find," answered Strawn, striding across the room. "Yes, you can see for yourself; the catches are turned tight." Experimentally he released the fastenings, trying each window in turn. Both of them came up grudgingly, with a plaintive whine and shriek of binding wood.

"Even with the catches unfastened, the window would have heard that racket."

Polly stared about the room, her eyes searching for some hidden recess which might afford a hiding place.

"The safe!" she exclaimed in sudden inspiration. "It's big enough for a man to crouch into. Look—in that safe!"

"There may be something in that!" cried Doliver. "And Polly is so sure that I can't believe—"

Strawn stared at the safe critically and nodded.

"It's big enough," he agreed, "and, as it happens, the safe door is unlocked." His voice lowered. "Not too loud; I am not so sure but that, if there is anyone in there, he couldn't hear us talking, and—he might be armed. I don't happen to own a gun, and—well, what's the use in taking chances?"

On the table was a heavy candlestick and Bob Doliver felt the weight of it.

"This will do," he murmured grimly. "It'll stand a little at one side while you, Strawn, open the door. I can crown him as he comes out before he gets a chance to shoot." He took a place beside the safe, the candlestick held upraised.

Paul Grimshaw, coming up the stairs, looked in the door, amazed by this strange scene. His breath arrested with him the evidence that he had sought solace in liquor following the run-in with his uncle.

"What's this?" he muttered thickly, taking a slightly unsteady step into the room. No one paid any attention to him.

"What a silly lot of fuss you're making over nothing!" laughed Vera Kingslake. "There's no one in that safe."

John Strawn seized the knob in the safe door and Polly noticed that he stood in a position where he would be protectingly behind it. The heavy metal door swung out with a slow sweep.

The safe, like the room, was empty!

There was a chorus of nervous laughter in which Polly did not join; she stuck stubbornly to her belief that there has been someone in the room at the moment she had stood outside the door in the hall.

"Then there must be some secret entrance," she insisted. "If it had been just noise, I'd back down, but I tell you that I saw a light shining through the keyhole!"

John Strawn shook his head.

"Nothing doing on that," he chuckled, "as I told you, my carpenters have been over the house thoroughly. These bookcases are built in solid, and—"

"Look!" whispered Vera Kingslake. Her eyes had widened and her finger, pointing to the table in the centre of the room, was trembling.

"That—that wasn't there when we were in this room—earlier this evening. I'll swear that it wasn't! Polly was right after all; there—there's someone been in this room."

In the thickly coated dust off the table there stood out with vivid distinctness the outline of a man's hand. It was a big hand. The others pressed closer, staring at it.

"I know it wasn't there two hours ago," declared Mrs. Kingslake. "See, the thumb touches the marks where I rested my fingers on the table when we were in here before. I looked at the table then—and I know that it wasn't there before."

"That," said Doliver, "was made by a man with only three fingers." He was right, the imprint, in the thick dust, showed the middle finger missing just below the second joint!

Hagen Resents Reports Criticizing Galleries

Champion Arises to Defence of Spectators During National Amateur—Objects to Statements That He "Talked" Jones Into Defeat

WALTER HAGEN

By WALTER HAGEN
This is one of a series of articles being written for The Canadian and North American Newspaper Alliance by the man who has held the American professional golf championship since 1925, and who twice won both American and British open championships.

(Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance)
Two bits of fiction, one in a magazine, the other in a newspaper, did not sit well with my dinner on a recent evening.
The newspaper writer said the galleries at the amateur championship at Minneapolis were unruly in a close match or tight finish in a large crowd following the play that it is impossible for all to see. The enthusiasm of the spectators becomes so great that they will at times run wild in an effort to get position of advantage.

This running wild happens in every city. Even in Scotland, at St. Andrews, the spectators cannot be held in complete check, and will break into a stampede to get up to the greens and see the play. The gallery lines have become fixed and there will be perfect quiet, even those who have failed to obtain a good position in the line as they might desire refraining, once they know the play has been resumed, from any disturbance.

Of course a few persons will walk through bunkers, but the percentage who do this is the same in New York, or Chicago, or San Francisco, as it is in Minneapolis. There were just as many heel marks in the bunkers, per thousand of attendants at Baltusrol during the amateur championship of 1926, as there were in the bunkers of Minikahda this year, and these, as a matter of fact, were very few. I did not hear a single player complain of finding his ball, when in a bunker, in a hot mat.

There is no more provincialism in Minneapolis than in New York, and there are more cowboys in the Loop in Chicago than there are in Denver. This is a great country, and I love to travel it, and I wish the New York writer who thinks Minneapolis has more hicks than his town would make a more careful survey.

BOWLERS TO CLOSE SEASON ON FRIDAY
The Burnside bowling season will close on Friday evening with a grand rally of all the members of both clubs in Hampton Hall.

The honorary president of the club, Mr. F. A. Pauline, British Columbia's Agent General in London, who is now visiting the province, may be present.

Prizes will be distributed to the winners of the season's competitions. Refreshments will be served by the ladies' club, and George Ingledew and others will entertain. Dancing to the music of the Burnside Orchestra will conclude the programme.

Canadian Horse Second
PARIS, Sept. 26.—Samphire, owned by C. W. Birkins, Sunday won the 2,400-metre stake, valued at 75,000 francs, at Longchamps, by a neck. Accompanied by Sir Mortimer Davis, president of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, was second by a head, with Marcel Bousquet's Belcour third. There were thirteen starters.

here and there, but I do not wish to be blamed for things I have not done.

PRIZE FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Now for Minneapolis. My exhibition tours have taken me to every city in America, and Minneapolis is one of my favorites. The people there know as much about golf as they do anywhere in America. All golf galleries in this age understand the game, and the only time galleries become unruly is during a close match or tight finish in a large crowd following the play that it is impossible for all to see. The enthusiasm of the spectators becomes so great that they will at times run wild in an effort to get position of advantage.

This running wild happens in every city. Even in Scotland, at St. Andrews, the spectators cannot be held in complete check, and will break into a stampede to get up to the greens and see the play. ## FOLEY TO MEET CARTER TONIGHT

Victory of "Wildcat" Over Doc Snell Reduces Odds on Canadian Heavy—Negro Cautious

SEATTLE, Sept. 26.—Vic Foley, of Vancouver, B.C., and Leslie "Wildcat" Carter, of Everett, junior lightweights, meet on even terms here tomorrow night on the top of the first indoor boxing card of the season. Although Foley earned a decision over Carter in their first encounter here last December, the "Wildcat's" sensational draw with Doc Snell a couple of weeks ago, has stripped the Canadian of odds among local ring followers.

The speedy negro has added much caution to his style since Foley punched him around the ropes, and should be able to avoid the punishment the veteran gave him in their previous battle.

TEX IS WILLING FOR RETURN BOUT

Promoter Is Ready to Match Dempsey and Tunney Again if Former Champion Consents

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Now that Tex Rickard's dream of the first $2,000,000 fight in ring history has faded into the light of financial returns from the Chicago battlefront, the promoter is considering a new record attempt with the third match of the Tunney-Dempsey series.

Very tired, but happy that the champion's successful defence in Soldiers' Field was greatest of his own financial triumphs to date, Rickard arrived in New York today.

"Dempsey is still the greatest drawing card in the ring," Rickard said, "and is far from 'through' if he wishes to continue fighting. I haven't heard word from him directly on the subject, but I certainly would match Tunney and Dempsey again if the former champion is willing to fight his way through the winter or spring campaign to prove his fitness above all other contenders."

Rickard announced the profit on the big match as roughly $500,000. The gate of $2,558,850 was whittled to that figure of profit by payment of $1,425,000 in taxes, and $250,000 for rent of the stadium and general expenses, he said.

DEMPSEY DECLARES HE IS NOT THROUGH

Former Champion States Willingness to Meet Anybody—Ready for Any Attractive Offer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Jack Dempsey came to New York tonight looking for a fight.
Far from being through with the ring after his second losing battle with Tunney, Jack expects to go on fighting for a title—any title, year ago, and failed to list last week. The method of his procedure he did not care to divulge. But he was emphatic in declaring that he was ready for anybody.

"I'll take on Tunney, sure, or anybody else," he said.
Asked if he would fight for Tex Rickard, the former champion said he stood ready to do business with him or any other promoter who had anything attractive to offer.
Jack was in good spirits when called from his hotel suite. The only apparent mark of the Tunney battle was a cut over one eye, but it had almost healed.

Dempsey did not care to go into details over the measures being taken to retrieve the decision in the Tunney fight. That was all up to Leo P. Flynn, his manager, Jack said.

DUCKS HAVE LAST LAUGH AT FARMER

Wisconsin Marsh, Drained for Agriculture Purposes, to Be Restored

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The favorite sportsman and sportsman's clubs to work out their own salvation in providing an abundance of fish to catch and game to shoot. Granted efficient management and intelligent administration we may assume that we can have fish and game in proportion to the amount of money we are willing to invest in it.

The state and federal fish hatcheries are able to furnish fish try almost without limit, but there is a very definite limit to the number of large fingerlings or yearlings that can be supplied, owing to limited facilities for retaining and limited funds for feeding during the period of growth. Many sportsmen's clubs are in a position to have opportunities for establishing rearing stations just as is being done by a number of progressive clubs throughout the country, particularly in New England and New York.

The same plan may be followed with respect to the stocking of the game fields with ringneck pheasants and later on undoubtedly with other species of game birds. State and private game farms are able to supply pheasant eggs in great numbers, but their facilities for supplying birds for stocking are limited, as are the fish hatcheries.

A number of sportsmen's clubs in New York and elsewhere have been very successful in hatching pheasant eggs and rearing the young to the proper age for liberation.

One vital essential in work of this kind is competent management. The care and feeding of young fish requires skill and experience, just as does the hatching and care of young game birds. If this factor is properly looked after, success is reasonably certain.

Licence fees will probably never be high enough to supply all the funds needed, neither can appropriations be secured in adequate amounts. The nonhunter will not object perhaps to pay for enough game to look at, but if we are to have enough to shoot, the sportsman must be the chief contributor.

Dear at the Price

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—A preliminary estimate of the losses to property caused by the recent earthquake in the Crimea places the amount at $2,000,000 rubles (about $16,000,000).

SHIPPING MCINTOSH APPLIES

VERNON—One of the most important happenings of the past week has been the setting of the record by McIntosh apples by the Committee of Direction: Fancy grade, $1.85; C's showing twenty per cent slight color, minimum size, 1 1/8", $1.55; crates, $1.35; in bulk of crate quality at $5 per ton. At these values, should a grower have thirty-three per cent fancy, thirty-three per cent C grade, and thirty-three per cent B grade, his net returns ought to average a trifling over $1 per box. Trains which moved out of Vernon commencing on Sunday and continuing throughout the night and all day today, are racing towards the prairie markets with hundreds of cars of McIntosh Red apples. It is a grand struggle between rival transportation companies and between various fruit distributing agencies as to who will be the first to reach the markets.

HUNTERS SHOULD PAY FOR SPORT

Game Association Suggests Club Fees Should Go to Restocking Operations

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—It is time that we realize that fish and game cannot be had as a gift, like manna from heaven.
It requires money in large amounts to operate game farms and fish hatcheries, to patrol the game fields and to enforce the law, to control vermin and plant and distribute food and do the multifarious other things that are necessary in perpetuating game and fish, and to maintain the American Game Protective Association.

It is also preposterous to expect that we pay the state for the privilege of hunting and fishing will ever be sufficient to accumulate funds enough to provide fish and game for everybody.

It is therefore up to the individual sportsman and sportsman's clubs to work out their own salvation in providing an abundance of fish to catch and game to shoot. Granted efficient management and intelligent administration we may assume that we can have fish and game in proportion to the amount of money we are willing to invest in it.

The state and federal fish hatcheries are able to furnish fish try almost without limit, but there is a very definite limit to the number of large fingerlings or yearlings that can be supplied, owing to limited facilities for retaining and limited funds for feeding during the period of growth. ## S. F. EXCHANGE SEATS ARE HIGH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Seals on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange jumped to a new record price of $80,000, up $10,000, from the last previous sale, yesterday when Lyman Orimes, purchaser of the seal of J. C. Hall, a member since December 17, 1923, was elected to individual membership in the exchange. The high price of seats on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange places the exchange far ahead in this respect of all the country's security exchange, with the exception of the New York Stock Exchange.

Growing public interest in securities, with its attendant increasing volume of transactions, has stimulated demand for membership in the San Francisco security market. The sale at $80,000 compares with the sale of a seat last May for $70,000, which latter price was a jump of $25,000 above a sale last March. A year ago seats on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange sold for $30,000. The price today, representing a gain of $50,000 above that figure, is an increase of 166 2/3 per cent.

Not only is the value of membership increasing, but the exchange this month is breaking all previous records in its history for volume of securities traded in.

Based on comparative figures for the period the exchange is now exceeding by far trading records for daily, weekly and monthly volume.

Coke Production

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Production of coke in Canada during August amounted to 169,130 short tons. This output was six per cent more than in July, when 158,129 tons were produced and three per cent over 166,662 tons made in August of a year ago. While production in the eastern provinces dropped to 42,996 tons from 46,211 tons, this loss was more than offset by gains in Ontario, and the western provinces. Ontario's output advanced to 108,966 tons from 97,511 tons in July, and the western provinces produced 17,168 tons as against 15,407 tons in the previous month.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combuster, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then remove it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

Sousa's Band to Play at Arena on Monday, October 3

Among the organizations which are asking Lieut.-Com. John Philip Sousa to write for them "official marches" is the National Press Club of Washington. This organization, composed of newspaper men from all sections of the country, is now building a $100,000 structure in Washington. Five stories will be used as quarters for the club and about twenty stories will be used for offices. The building also will contain a 5,000-seat motion picture theatre. Sousa two years ago wrote "The Gridiron Club" for the famous Washington newspaper men's organization and virtually began his composing career with "Washington Post," dedicated to a Washington newspaper. Sousa and his band will appear for two concerts at the Arena on Monday, October 3.

Spirit of Hollywood Found in Death Valley

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Lewis Lewellyn announced shortly after noon that his wife, Marion Mack, picture actress, who left here last Wednesday in the monoplane, "Spirit of Hollywood," which has been missing since, had been found in Death Valley. A telephone message said she and the pilot, Frank Tomick, were safe, but in a badly weakened condition.

More than 100,000 tons of cork was produced in Spain in the past year.

TIMBER CRUISE
AGAIN DELAYED

LAST CRUISE GAINED $65,000 EXTRA FOR CITY ON GOLD-STREAM DEAL

No Insurance Carried on Timber Growing on Sooke Lake Watershed

Again the question of taking a cruise of the timber on the Sooke Lake watershed has been delayed by the City Council. The urgency of having a cruise taken was pointed out by Mayor J. Carl Pendray and Alderman Eugene S. Woodward. The work would cost $4,500. The topography of the watershed would also be reported upon.

Alderman Dewar wanted to know if a cruise was justified, as he had heard that there was not a great deal of merchantable timber on the watershed.

Alderman Litchfield expressed the opinion that the cruise might not be needed. He understood that Mr. H. Topp, a former city engineer, had some valuable information on this subject.

Alderman Clearhue took the stand that the city could not afford to pay for the cruise out of this year's estimates and that the matter had better be laid on the table until next year.

Any private company having such an asset would not "quibble" over $4,500 when it might mean several hundreds of thousands of dollars to them. The city would find that when a bid was made for the lumber on this watershed it would be without the necessary information.

Alderman Woodward pointed out that the city had secured $65,000 more than it would have got from the sale of the timber on the Gold-stream watershed by having the timber in that area cruised.

Mayor Pendray stressed the fact that the city had valuable timber on the Sooke watershed but carried no insurance. Every year it was in danger of being destroyed by fire. The city should have the watershed logged for the second growth would be of far greater value to the watershed than the present one.

The matter was laid on the table until next week, during which period the information reported to be in the hands of Mr. Topp will be investigated.

"Today" Dancers in "The Red Widow"

In the musical comedy, "The Red Widow," which is to be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, two rival groups bid for favor, the "Yesterday Dancers" and the "Today Dancers." The dancing numbers in the show are of unusual brilliance.

DENNY FEATURED IN FARCE COMEDY

"Out All Night," With Popular Artist in Lead, Shows at Capitol

"Out All Night," in which Universal is starring Reginald Denny, is a picture that is certain to satisfy the most ardent admirer of good, clean, smooth running farce comedy.

This newest production of one of the greatest comedy stars on the screen is now at the Capitol Theatre and was given a great reception at its premiere showing last

AMUSEMENTS

THE SCREEN

Capitol—"Out All Night," starring Reginald Denny.

Columbia—"Mr. Wu," featuring Lon Chaney.

Dominion—"Syd Chaplin in 'The Missing Link'."

Coliseum—Vaudeville.

Playhouse—"Irish Justice," Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

night. Not only does "Out All Night" give us plenty of good clean fun and laughs by the carload, but it has some of the most thrilling incidents ever screened worked into the plot. It also offers a pretty romance and is based on a story that is entirely plausible.

Marian Nixon plays the leading feminine role opposite the favorite Denny and Ben Henderson. Wheeler Oakman, Dorothy Earle and Dan Mason come in for their share of the fine acting displayed in this picture.

William Selter, the director has one of his best productions in this comedy.

The stage specialties are exceptionally fine and include three high class vaudeville offerings. The first introduces to Victorians the Carlton Sisters and Mack in a novelty singing presentation, which is both useful and unique. For lovers of good songs, rendered in a masterly way, Aurelio Sciacqua, an Italian tenor of international repute, will more than fill the bill, and Syd Barnes, the noted English monologist, will finish the vaudeville with a fine novelty offering that should please everybody.

Coliseum "The Cabaret Kid," THEATRE now showing at the capital film. It is a Gaiety picture directed by Graham Cutts, with Miss Betty Balfour in the lead, and a cast that includes Miss Halide Wright, Mr. Gromin Wilson, Mrs. Morton York, and the young American actor, Mr. George Hackathorne, who pulls his weight. The story is told with point and with humor—a properly farcical humor since the plot has more pace than probability. There is sentiment in it, and there is sensation. The story is a free adaptation of a play by Mr. John Hastings "Dinner." Miss Balfour is Fay Wynnebec, brought up in a poor orphanage in France, who turns out—this not until the very end—to be the daughter of a well-to-do brother of the Misses Wynnebec in Cornwall. The vaudeville at the Coliseum this week is another pleasant surprise, comprising a child comedian, who renders three popular selections on her cornet; Boyd McGill in a hand-shadowgraph act, and Templeton Moss, a popular English bass.

PLAYHOUSE Chas. Courtier, who spent a short season with the Hinks Players last Fall, has just returned from San Francisco with a bundle of new shows, which will be seen at the Playhouse as fast as they can be prepared. Mr. Courtier will sing the leads in the shows as well as producing them in conjunction with Mr. Bechtel. Victorians will remember his excellent tenor voice and acting ability. He takes the role of Lawyer Baum in "Irish Justice," now current at the Playhouse. "Bitter Apples," the Warner Brothers' picture, starring Monte Blue, is the screen attraction. It is an adaptation of Harold McGrath's well-known story and has to do with the vengeance of a son and daughter for the untimely death of their father. Desperate at having lost all in the breaking up of the Wynnote Bank, the old man had taken his life. The children vowed to avenge his death, and to do so by the vindictive pursuit and persecution of the son of the dead bank president.

COLUMBIA Thrills of a new kind, THEATRE the haunting mystery of the mysterious Orient, with odds and philosophies that almost past Oriental belief; these, garnishing a romance delicate as the lotus flower, mark Lon Chaney's new triumph on the screen. "Mr. Wu," showing today and tomorrow at the Columbia Theatre, dupes Lon Chaney in a new angle to his old arts. He invades another race for his character, as the silent, subtle and sinister Mandarin, versed in the knowledge of ages; almost uncanny in his insight into human character, and his enormous power, pursuing his relentless programme of revenge against a family who wronged him. The dramatic climax, in which woman's intuition is pitted against the wisdom of the Orient, in a desperate duel of wits between Chaney and Louise Dresser, with the life of her son as the stake, is one of the most astounding pieces of dramatic action ever given the screen.

SYD CHAPLIN IN THE MISSING LINK

Remarkable Intelligence Displayed by Chimpanzee in Picture Featured at Dominion

Charles F. Reisner, versatile director of Warner Bros. production of "The Missing Link," starring Syd Chaplin, now showing at the Dominion Theatre, has added one more to the list of his accomplishments. He has become an animal trainer.

In "The Missing Link" Akka, a remarkably intelligent chimpanzee, has a large role. At first his trainer directed Akka altogether, but it was not long until the director and the monk were on the beat of terms. Reisner began to take over his direction more and more until near the end of the picture he could direct him without any aid whatever from the master. I treat him like a human being," said Reisner, when asked the secret of his power. "Akka is like a child. Being an experienced father, I found it an easy matter to direct him, after I caught on to his several little mental quirks."

HAMBURG LINE
BUYS STEAMER

ITALIAN VESSEL NEPTUNIA
WILL BE USED FOR PLEAS-URE CRUISING

Original Sierra Salvada to Change
Name Again—Will Make Trips to Orient

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The Hamburg-American Line has purchased the steamship Neptunia from Italian owners and will add her, renamed the Oceana, to its fleet of cruising steamers. It was announced yesterday by T. H. Jacobs, general passenger traffic manager for this coast for the company. She is the only German steamer used exclusively for pleasure cruising.

This steamer, built in 1912 by Brover Vulkan Vegesack, originally bore the name of Sierra Salvada. During 1923, she was converted by German banking interests into a first class cruising steamer. She is a steel, twin-screw craft of 1500 gross register tonnage, with two funnels, and two masts; she is 457 feet long, fifty-six feet wide and thirty-four feet five inches deep, and has accommodation for 300 first class passengers.

In construction, the Oceana conforms to the highest requirements of the Germanischer Lloyd. She has a double bottom extending the entire length of the ship; her hull is divided by longitudinal and transverse bulkheads which are fitted with hydraulically operated water-tight doors. She is equipped with all the latest safety devices. Her unusual stability makes her exceedingly comfortable in all weather.

Her five passenger decks are attractively and spaciouly arranged or the leisurely comfort necessary

Furness Liner
Due to Arrive
Here Thursday

THE Furness (Pacific) liner, Pacific Shipper, will dock at the Riethe Consolidated piers on Thursday morning, according to word received yesterday by King Brothers, local agents for the company. The vessel is bringing 125 tons of cargo for discharge here.

to make a pleasure cruise a success. The dining-room, which extends through two decks, accommodates two, four and six persons at tables. A swimming pool, in addition to the numerous private and other baths, contributes to the enjoyment of the passengers. The ladies' lounge, smoking room and winter garden ballroom with balcony are tastefully furnished. The staterooms are all equipped with beds instead of berths, and have running water.

The available deck space provides ample room for promenading and deck sports. An open-air veranda is located on the aft part of B deck, adjacent to the winter garden.

The Hamburg-American Line is a pioneer in the cruising field, having inaugurated the "pleasure cruise" during the time that Albert Ballin was managing director, and in 1890 the Auguste Victoria made the first pleasure cruise to the Mediterranean and Orient. Later this service was extended to Norway, the Baltic Sea and Russia, the West Indies, South America and around the world. At the present time, the line's cruising fleet includes the popular steamers, Resolute and Reliance, and next year the two 9,800-ton motorships, Rio Orinoco and Rio Magdalena, now being built, will make Summer cruises to Polar regions and Winter cruises to the West Indies.

According to advice received here from Emil Lederer, vice-president of the United American Lines, general agents for the Hamburg-American Line in this country, the Oceana is scheduled to leave Hamburg, January 17, on a seventeen-day cruise to Genoa. She will then make two twenty-six-day cruises to the Orient and Eastern Europe, and a thirty-day Mediterranean cruise.

Victoria Lures
Modavia Seamen,
Who Miss Boat

The beauty of Victoria, even in such foggy, murky weather as prevailed yesterday, proved a bit of a snare for two seamen, George Baines and George Dunmore, of the fine motorship Modavia, of the Donaldson Line.

The Modavia docked at the Riethe Consolidated piers on Sunday morning to discharge about 100 tons of cargo.

Early yesterday morning the two sailors decided to stroll ashore and take a look at the city. When they returned to the dock they found the pier side deserted. Their ship had sailed for Vancouver without them, at 11:45 a.m.

They had thought the Modavia was scheduled to sail at 2 p.m., not at 11:45 a.m., they explained to Mr. Shanks.

Greyhound races were seen by 10,000 spectators at the White City, London, on a recent Saturday night.

North Atlantic Passenger Season
Appears to Be Good One—Fall
Ships Westwards

"Not for years has the undercurrent of shipping opinion been so cheerful as at the present time," writes a special correspondent of The New York Journal of Commerce from London under date of September 2.

"The attack of nerves," he continues, "which followed the collapse of the freight market last June; the depressing tale of the Chamber of Shipping's laid-up tonnage, and freight index figures has passed away and the autumn expansion has opened full early in accordance with the forecast of the best prophesies. The North Atlantic passenger season appears to have been a good one, certainly the westward voyages are now on a long tale of full ships; and berths in the popular ships are practically unobtainable until the end of October.

"Shipowners, however, are not blind to the vagaries of the liner business and are not inclined to throw their hats in the air for joy. Obviously some trades would require considerable expansion to justify any talk of a shipping boom, a term which all shipowners, like all industrialists in this country, have learned to dislike, because it means instability in the labor market and all sorts of trouble ahead. Steady expansion of trade is what they have been praying for and it is apparently what they are about to get. That is why the undertone is so satisfactory, and as it arises more from natural causes than the revival which followed the coal strike last year, owners feel more reassured that it is likely to last.

"In one respect the sequence of events is not taking the course one expects and it is that, so far, there is no impetus to the shipbuilding centres to place orders for new tonnage. That is different from what happened last year because, although much of the shipbuilding output came from the oil tanker concerns, there was a fair proportion of plain cargo tonnage put in hand, too. Similarly, there is little moving in the liner business, a point to which reference has been made recently. The shipping revival has, however, come full early and with further evidences of stability ahead the shipbuilding end may brighten up materially."

China Fighting Orient's Battle
Against Communism, Declares
General Sun

With 250 tons of cargo for discharge here, the American Mail liner President Jefferson docked at the Riethe Consolidated piers from the Far East at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Prominent in the passenger list were General Tchang Sun and General T. Ching Wu, both of the Peking general military headquarters staff. The former will attend the International Radio Conference which will be held at Washington, D.C.

China has been waging the Orient's war against Communism, General Sun declared while here yesterday.

"The war in China is not between the North and the South," he said. "It is simply a fight between Russian Communism and civilized China. China has been carrying on the struggle against Bolshevism alone. If Russian ideas once convince China, then all the Orient will be converted to a regime of the same Communism which has swept Russia, cut her off from her traditions, from all her old glory and national position and has left her manacled to an impossible ideal. We alone are battling that menace in the Orient."

MONARCHY GONE

The monarchy will never be restored in China, the General believes. The democratic form of government, he says, is the only one suited to the needs of so vast a nation.

In spite of the exodus of missionaries from China, Dr. Venable said, "Even though all the European and United States missionaries were driven out, there would still be many Chinese Christians quite capable of carrying on the work instituted by the white people."

The Jefferson brought a passenger list of 247, including sixty-one cabin passengers. Forty steerage and five first-class passengers disembarked here, the latter group comprising Mr. H. Calderwood, Mrs. F. M. Colbourne, Miss Jean Gates, Mrs. S. S. Hiebner and Miss Constance E. Ward.

Admiral C. B. Williams, formerly commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic Fleet, was aboard the vessel.

AMONG PASSENGERS

Other passengers included: Captain A. G. Salisbury Jones, of the Coldstream Guards, returning to London from duty in Shanghai; Mrs. Ethel M. Huebner, of Tokio, on a visit to relatives in Montreal; A. Bauras, lace buyer, returning from a business trip to Shanghai; J. E. Covington, Oriental manager for the Universal Leaf Tobacco Company, en route to Richmond, Va.; E. L. Okerson, far Eastern missionary on his way to Chicago with his family; Corporal W. P. Phillips, Corporal D. A. Shur and Private T. McClain, star players of the U.S. marine corps football team, en route to Quantico, Va., to play for their team; General T. Ching, Mrs. Wu, H. Y. Lee, H. C. Chang and Yen. Yen, Chinese delegates to the International Radio Conference at Washington, D.C.

Farming is done on novel lines in the island of Malta. The soil has to be imported from Sicily, but it is possible to grow three or four crops a year.

MAIL PLANE IS DELAYED BY FOG

Fog and rain so delayed Fred Barnes, pilot of the Victoria-Seattle air mail plane, yesterday that incoming mail from the American Mail liner President Jefferson were shipped to Seattle aboard the C.P.R. boat at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Jefferson docked at the Riethe Consolidated piers at about 7:30 o'clock in the morning, but Mr. Barnes did not arrive here until about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. At 4 o'clock the weather was so bad from the airman's point of view that it was decided to ship the Jefferson mail to Seattle by boat.

The air mail pilot was forced down in the waters of the Sound and Strait three or four times during the day. He made one forced landing near Port Angeles.

Inbound from the Orient, the Blue Funnel liner Talhybrynd will reach William Head Quarantine Station at 8 o'clock this morning.

The vessel will dock at the Riethe Consolidated piers, probably at about 9:30 o'clock, to discharge fifty tons of cargo and allow 104 passengers to disembark. She will then sail for Seattle.

With a capacity cargo beneath her hatches, the Protestants, of the same line, will dock at the Riethe piers at 8 o'clock this morning, outbound for ports in the Orient.

NEW ATTRACTION FOR BEAUTY SPOT

Ladder at Stamp Falls Is Now In Use to Help Salmon Make the Ascent

Visitors to Stamp Falls, north of Alberni, have had another attraction this year, owing to the construction of the fish ladder there, and this has been brought into use after several months of work.

This ladder consists of a series of ten steps or pools, two feet above one another, enabling the salmon to rest between leaps, and thus make the grade.

It is expected to have a beneficial effect on the sockeye running in the Somass River, as in the past many fish failed to negotiate the falls, and fell back exhausted into the pool below.

Owing to the physical condition of the location the construction gang, under Mr. H. Hunt, fisheries engineer, had many difficulties.

Associated with the construction of the ladder has been the planting of Great Central Lake with salmon eggs from the Anderson Lake hatchery, the eggs succeeding better than young fry. This practice, which has been in operation for some time, has been tested long enough to demonstrate the value of it.

When the ladder was opened recently in the presence of Major J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of fisheries, it immediately proved a success. The cost has been about $7,000.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

NANAIMO, Sept. 26.—Hubert E. Dendoff returned yesterday from his trip to Ostend, where he went as a delegate from the Nanaimo Rotary Club. Mr. Dendoff describes his trip as the most wonderful event of his life. After attending the Rotary convention, he visited Paris, Brussels and Antwerp, then crossed over to England. He spent a considerable time at the great steel works of the famous Cammell-Laird & Steel Company, where he took a post-graduate course in the treating and tempering of a special steel just recently manufactured and which promises to revolutionize the automobile and locomotive springs.

STRANGE STORY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26.—To see a man hurtling through the air from the third story of a building, alight on the ground in safety and shake himself, was the unusual experience of Constable McGinnis early Sunday morning.

As the officer patrolled his beat in the lane near the Murray Hotel, Hornby Street, he was startled to see a man suddenly leap from a window on the third floor.

He rushed to the spot, expecting to find the victim badly hurt, but the stranger, who gave his name as T. Stewart, although somewhat dazed, said he was not hurt and explained that another man who was in his room had drawn a revolver and scared him to the extent of causing him to dive through the window.

The second man is being held for investigation.

Among trades listed in the London Post Office directory are those of coalcut grinders, brewery amalgamators, milk-guard manufacturers and dandy-roll makers.

Bishop of Birmingham On Origin of Mankind

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Right Rev. Ernest William Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, preaching in Westminster Abbey yesterday, instead of the recent work of the British Association, and said that, instead of clinging to old faiths, the people should rather welcome new discoveries with an open mind, and reverence the great men who made them. "Stories of the Garden of Eden have become for us," he said, "only folktales. Man is not a being who has fallen from the ideal state of perfect innocence. He is an animal who is slowly gaining spiritual understanding and, with the gain, rising far above his distasteful ancestors."

Hunter Satisfies His Ambition for Grizzly

JASPER, Alta., Sept. 26.—Most hunting men would like to get a grizzly bear some day, and W. W. Lange, of Milwaukee, has satisfied his demand. "I scarcely hoped to get one," he said in front of the fireplace in Jasper Park Lodge today as he related his experiences, "especially at this time of the year," but luck was with me and I bagged a beauty. I never saw an animal with such a superb silver tip. He is going to make a wonderful rug."

Taking Mrs. Lange and their son Freddy with him, he went into the Smoky River country at Entrance, Alberta, skirting Jasper National Park and going north of the Smoky to Sheep River. The hunters brought out a full bag, two goats measuring nine and a half and ten inches, two sheep with a seventeen-inch base, a caribou, a moose and a bear.

"We were in thirty-eight days," said Mr. Lange, "but our shooting was really concentrated in the space of less than a week. You would scarcely believe the abundance of game that is there. I'm going back next year, and for a change I may go in from Mount Robson." Mr. Lange is a well known business man in Milwaukee and is a big game hunter of some years' standing.

Fernie Schools Close

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 26.—All schools are closed here today, children are excluded from picture shows and must remain in their own neighborhood so as to prevent their gathering in any numbers, as the result of development of one case of infantile paralysis here, reported on Saturday. The orders were issued by Dr. Douglas Cornan, medical health officer. No further cases have been reported and the condition of the one patient is said to be as good as can be expected.

NANAIMO, Sept. 26.—A mass meeting of the local miners was held in the St. John Hall last evening, to discuss the new wage agreement. ### WORLD FLIGHT IS BEING PREPARED

City's Assistance Asked for as Aviators May Make This Call on Route

The Round-the-World Aviation Society, of Paris, is preparing an aeroplane voyage around the world, with a plane flying the Swiss flag and captained by the Swiss air pilot Marcel Nappes. It was learned at last night's meeting of the City Council, when a letter from the secretary of the association at Gennevilliers-Paris was read, in which arrangements for the party's reception and landing facilities were asked for.

It appears from the letter that Victoria is on the route of the around-the-world flight, for the Council is requested, if it sees fit, to form an official committee, whose object would be the preparation of the call in all its details.

The trip will probably be undertaken at the beginning of May next year, as weather conditions during May, June and July are asked for.

The City Council simply received and filed the letter until it obtained further information on the subject.

GOODYEAR
MADE IN CANADA
Dominates

AIR drill and pneumatic tool hose are important anywhere; but they are vital in mining. Vital to continued operation; vital to profits. And in the mines, particularly in the biggest, most profitable mines, Goodyear Hose is most used.

Individual orders for 12,000 to 15,000 feet are not uncommon with Goodyear. Mine managers do not order Goodyear Hose hesitatingly. They know that here is hose specially designed to meet every condition of the job it has to do—cover designed to stand abuse, lining designed to withstand oil, carcass designed for great strength. You will find these same qualities in the curb line hose which supplies air for your tires.

The same thing applies to the other types of Goodyear Hose, such as—Steam, Water, Suction, Garden, Vinegar, Brewers', etc. For any hose need, therefore, you may safely specify Goodyear.
